From the Executive Director

Dear Friends,

YOU ARE TO BE CELEBRATED!

Reflecting on the good you have accomplished with the Volunteer Center makes me so grateful. Thank you!

2019 seems like a long time ago. We have been dealing with personal and professional challenges associated with COVID-19 - a phrase that we could not even imagine a few short weeks ago. As we've gone back and forth on compiling this report, working remotely, and trying to support our partners and volunteers right now, the days have been too short to ever feel like we were ahead of the curve on anything. Many of you have shared feeling this same way.

Yet with each new report draft from Kayla, I've been wowed with all the Volunteer Center work you accomplished last year. You inspired people to find their purpose and act on it! Every bit of it we did because of you! None of it would have happened without you!

You and your fellow Volunteer Center supporters impacted the lives of more than 49,000 people of all ages throughout Lubbock and the South Plains. THEY thank you.

Your Volunteer Center service did so much good!

- You volunteered with new places.
- You sustained the organizations you had already found and provided consistent support to the people they serve.
- You participated in our leadership programming, were affirmed with what makes you uniquely you, and found new ways to be more fully YOU personally and professionally.
- You gathered together with us throughout the year as we celebrated community and found inspiration to keep engaging.
- You invested your time, your wisdom, your money, and made it possible for us to do our vital work together.

At our annual Service and Leadership Symposium last September, our keynote speaker, Marcy Heim, challenged you to unleash generosity in your life. This goes beyond giving your financial support to the generosity of your spirit, intention, and compassion. She had us all together, affirming, "I CREATE MY LIFE." She reminded you that while you do not control all - or anything - around you, you do control your response. You do get to set intentions every day of how you're going to think and act. It resonated with me then. It's been sustaining and comforting these last few weeks when it's seemed like everything has changed.

I am so happy to celebrate some of the highlights you created with the Volunteer Center. I'm equally happy to let you know that your efforts fostered generosity and resilience through the partnerships we created together last year. The Volunteer Center is strong and serving still. There's so much I don't know about what lies ahead in the coming days and weeks. That will be the 2020 story. I do know that our purpose is the same, and thanks to you, we will be creating new ways to act on it.

Please take a moment and relish what you made possible with the Volunteer Center.

I can't wait to keep celebrating life with you in 2020. Here's to more loving and serving together!

Volunteer Impact

The Volunteer Center believes in helping people use their precious time to purposefully engage in the community. We make it easy for people of all ages to give back through programs like From the Heart, United Way Youth Division, Youth in Service, Get Connected, Tech to Town, Volunteer Fairs, and personalized volunteer referrals.

Get Connected

Our Get Connected website allows volunteers to search and sign up for volunteer opportunities, track their hours, and learn more about our agency partners in the community. In 2019, we had 12,370 registered users on Get Connected who contributed to:

- Our From the Heart family volunteering program
- National Days of Service
- Numerous agency partner needs

United Way Youth Division

United Way Youth Division (UWYD) is a student-led program for high school students coordinated through the Volunteer Center. The program is open to all area high school students who are interested in meeting other teens, learning more about agencies, and volunteering. Students engage in youth-organized meetings, hands-on service projects, and opportunities for leadership. All of these activities work toward creating the next generation of community leaders! In 2019, UWYD had 130 members who served a total of 1,637 hours.

National Days of Service

The Volunteer Center of Lubbock takes part in five National Days of Service each year. These include Martin Luther King, Jr. Day in January, National Volunteer Week and Global Youth Service Day in April, Make a Difference Day in October, and Family Volunteer Day in November. All together, these days contributed to 800 people volunteering 2,153 hours in our community in 2019.

“The smallest act of kindness is worth more than the grandest intention”
-Oscar Wilde

2019 Leadership Impact

Everyone has the potential to become a leader. The Volunteer Center strives to help people develop or enhance their leadership skills, so that together, we can spend our time creating a more engaged community.

Our Transformative Leadership programs include Emerging Leaders, High Performing Teams, Volunteer Manager Leaders, and Executive Director Boot Camp. Every participant takes a transformative leadership assessment created by David Collins of i9 Intelligences, followed by the opportunity to learn more about their results on Transformative Leadership Day. A full day of training for each program follows.

The Volunteer Center also offers workshops over various topics taught by leaders in the community. Workshop topics have included Social Media Marketing (basics and advanced), Powerful Presentations, and Grant Writing.

We believe that by encouraging young people to explore their leadership potential and understand the importance of service, we are building a more engaged community. Lubbock HYPE (Helping Youth Purposefully Engage) allows high school juniors to do just that.

By offering these various opportunities, we are here as a resource to use your time developing your skills and influencing the next generation of leaders.

In 2019, 1,410 adults and youth participated in a VCL leadership program.

Our 2019 Transformative Leadership program was rated 4.69/5 by participants.

2019 Partnership

108 Agency Partners

Our Agency Partners receive benefits such as a free account on our online volunteer community Get Connected, promotion in our Guide to Volunteering in Lubbock and eNewsletters, discounted fees in workshops and consultations, opportunities to connect with other agency partners at Brown Bag lunches, and opportunities to connect with the community at Volunteer Center agency fairs and events.

50 Area Schools

The goal of the Youth in Service (YIS) program is to build the next generation of community leaders by recognizing young people for the service they provide and giving them training and support to develop service programs in their schools. Throughout the school year, the schools submit reports, photos, and videos documenting school-wide volunteer efforts and receive ongoing support. Participating schools are then recognized at our annual Celebration of Service luncheon in May and receive an award check to use for volunteer projects the following year. We also partner with local universities to offer community engagement for their students.

50 Business Partners

We help to make service easy by connecting businesses with local agencies needing volunteers. We offer presentations on volunteering and community engagement. Volunteer matching services help employees find their best fit. We help companies create employee volunteer programs. Businesses also find value in our extensive leadership programming for young professionals wanting to make an impact and for teams that want to become more high performing.

Connecting Service, Leadership, and Partnership: Abby's Story

When Abby Dye reached out to her boss three months into her job as the Mayor's assistant, about a leadership series opportunity here in Lubbock, her main motivation at that point was how affordable it was. "I was struck by how high-quality training this was for a very inexpensive cost." Once enrolled in the Transformative Leadership 2019 Class under Emerging leaders, she took the i9 Intelligencer Assessment, the personality test all participants are required to take before the start of the series. Abby states that is when she truly started to understand the value of what she was getting. "It is the most all-encompassing test that I have ever taken, really, really detailed." She also liked how it highlighted her strengths and helped her to realize that everyone has those areas they thrive in and others where they do not, and that is ok. "I am able to excel at the parts of the job I know I'm good at and give myself grace in the areas where I don't, and then foolproof plans to cover those areas." It helped her understand the importance of surrounding herself with people that do thrive in the areas where she may not, and that delegating to those people is perfectly acceptable.

Fast forward to a few months later when she received a phone call from Sharon Bass, Executive Director at The Volunteer Center. Sharon had gotten to know Abby through the Transformative Leadership series and became familiar with her skill set. The board at Grace Campus, a shelter for the homeless population here in Lubbock, was looking for new board members. Sharon put Abby in touch with Grace Campus, and they set up a time to meet. Grace Campus Program Director Jerri Ann Moore states, "Grace Campus worked closely with the Volunteer Center during a time of restructuring of our board. It was following this time that Abby was mentioned as a possible prospect for our board. Since she had been through the

"Service, leadership, and partnership come together in real people who positively transform our community."

Transformative Leadership Program at the Volunteer Center and her interests naturally aligned with our mission in the community, she was a perfect fit!" Abby was immediately intrigued by the opportunity to help people that this offered, and it turns out the role they were asking her to consider on their board fed right into Abby's strength in the area of event planning. Abby has been on the board now since October 2019, serving as its Vice-Chair. Jerri Ann Moore continues, "Abby has been such a welcomed addition to our board. She brought a refreshing perspective on what it means to serve on a Board of Directors with her, as well as a contagious passion and enthusiasm to help others. I can honestly say that I can't imagine our board without her. She has been an important piece of the puzzle that needed to be in place. Her presence has not only helped our board transform into what it needs to be for the present, it has helped lay the groundwork for what it will become in the future."

Volunteer Center of Lubbock Executive Director Sharon Bass adds this about connecting Abby with Grace Campus, "Abby is the dream of what we envisioned when the Volunteer Center started Emerging Leaders. She is relentless in speaking up, giving voice, and connecting people to needs. I'm so inspired seeing the results of her passion for service. She is a great example of all of the things we do here - service, leadership, and partnership come together in real people who positively transform our community."
